President & CEO

Danville Area Chamber of Commerce

---

Judy Lloyd serves as the President & CEO of the Danville Area Chamber of Commerce.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Lloyd began her public service career in 1983, serving a U.S. Congressman from her home state of New York. She had the honor of serving as special assistant to U.S. Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole (1988-1992), where she orchestrated the appointment of the first person with a disability to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Lloyd served as an appointee of two U.S. Presidents at the U.S. Departments of Agriculture (1985-1986) and Labor (2001-2006), acting as a liaison for congressional and intergovernmental affairs.

She was the first woman appointed by a U.S. President to serve as Western Region IX Representative for the U.S. Secretary of Labor, earning the Exceptional Achievement Award in 2004. She earned the San Francisco Business Times Women of Distinction Award in Politics & Government in 2003.

From 2015-2020, Lloyd represented the communities of Alamo, Danville, Diablo, and San Ramon as senior district representative for Senator Steve Glazer. She managed and improved the TRAFFIX Bus Program (2016-2018) under a joint powers' authority for schools in the San Ramon Valley Unified School District.
